Memo H. L. Edwards to Mr. Mohr 12-30-55 set forth necessity for maintaining record of blood type and factor of Bureau evacuees (including alternates) scheduled for emergency evacuation to Bureau's relocation site. All employees then scheduled for evacuation were issued cards bearing blood data information with instructions to carry the cards on their person at all times. Memo approved blood typing and factoring by U. S. Public Health Service of employees not possessing their blood data information and the Bureau Health Service, where types and factors were not known, was to be furnished the names of employees, added to those scheduled for evacuation so as to maintain this program in a current status.

Attachment A, is a list of all evacuees (including alternates) scheduled for emergency evacuation. The list shows (where known) the blood type, factor, and whether they possess a card bearing this information. me

Attachment B, is a list of evacuees (including alternates) on whom we do not have the necessary blood data information.

Attachment C, is a list of evacuees (including alternates) who do not possess a card bearing the necessary blood data information.

BACKGROUND:

In letter to the Director of April 12, 1957, Colonel George P. Sampson of the Signal Corps advised that ODM had requested the Signal Corps to establish a leased microwave system to provide a back-up for [] and Interagency Communication System land-line circuits. Among the facilities listed were four clear voice circuits. In Bulet of April 23, 1957, to Colonel Sampson in answer to his letter, the Bureau concurred with the plans outlined in the Colonel's letter. In Mr. Millen's memo to Mr. Parsons of June 28, 1957, it was pointed out that at that time there were 2 unused jacks on the switchboard at [] and Mr. Millen recommended that upon notification of availability of permanent ICS microwave facilities at [] the 3 present temporary microwave circuits be disconnected (3 circuits operating off Bureau's microwave equipment) and the present extension 7770 from [] switchboard be removed from our switchboard and be terminated in an instrument in the Chief Clerk's Office at [] to provide jacks on the switchboard for connection of the four ICS microwave voice circuits.

DETAILS:

The telephone company now has an order to install the 4 microwave voice circuits to operate off the ICS equipment, and we presently have 3 unused trunk jacks on our switchboard. The ICS microwave facilities at [] have not been completed to date, and the target date for completion is July 1, 1958. Although the target date for the completion at [] is July 1, it may not be met, and this equipment and associated circuits may not be in use by the time of Operation Alert 1958. For this reason, I do not wish to remove [] from the switchboard in order to put on 4 microwave trunks which may not even be used during the alert.

By the same token, we do not want to discontinue the 2 microwave circuits to [] and the one microwave voice circuit to [] presently in use through our microwave equipment since they are operable and working. I have arranged with Captain J. C. Willis of the Engineering Section of the Interagency Communication Branch to install 3 of the ICS microwave trunks on the 3 available jacks and to install the 4th one on a telephone instrument in the switchboard room at [] The Interagency Communications System is paying for all of these facilities, including the instrument. I have discussed the matter with Messrs. [] and Millen. After the alert and in the event the AT & T microwave system being operated for ICS is in operation, we could remove from the switchboard the microwave circuits operating through the Bureau's equipment and either put the one ^{ICS} circuit ^{now} terminating in an instrument on the switchboard or leave it terminated in the instrument if that proves to be satisfactory. b7E

By memorandum for agency relocation officers dated May 12, 1958, ODM requested a status report on form ODM-142, which report is to reach ODM by June 16, 1958.

Similar reports were submitted to ODM on January 30, 1956, and May 10, 1957. Attached is an original and two copies of completed form ODM-142. It will be noted that under questions 3b and 3c which questions pertain to the estimated number of essential employees under a "relocation for duration concept," we have included all employees at the Seat of Government and all field office employees as of May 15, 1958. This is in keeping with our prior statements to ODM to the effect that in a period of an emergency all Bureau personnel would be essential for Bureau operations.

Enclosed is a list of the names of sixteen clerical employees who are designated to go immediately to relocation sites in the event of an emergency, and these individuals are members of the Ready Reserve. There are no agents designated for immediate assignment to relocation sites who are in the Ready Reserve. A Ready Reservist is subject to order to active duty without his consent in the event of an emergency. These employees under the Buplans also have the responsibility to report to relocation site without delay. Thus there exists conflicting responsibilities for these employees and their dual obligation should be resolved. The SAC and the division head where these employees are assigned should have this dual responsibility brought to their attention and replace those employees on the relocation site with individuals who are less vulnerable for order to active duty.

RECOMMENDATION:

The employees listed in the attachment who are members of the Ready Reserve and designated to report to relocation site in event of emergency, should be instructed to have this dual responsibility resolved or replaced by an individual who will be available to the Bureau in the event of an emergency.

You will recall that, as an integral part of the White House sponsored emergency relocation program for key agencies, there have been established between the various relocation centers certain facilities which will permit direct voice communication between the President and the heads of the critical agencies. This emergency system is known as [redacted] and the Bureau's relocation site at [redacted] has a connection to this network. Recently, the White House Army Signal Agency (WHASA), a branch of the Signal Corps which handles all the White House communications, has added to this system voice scrambling equipment (KY-1) in order to provide complete privacy and security. Purchase and installation (approximately $12,000 per site) is being handled by the Army Signal Corps without cost to the individual critical agencies.

The Army Signal Corps procured the specially designed and built equipment from the [redacted] and contracted the installation work to the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Inasmuch as the development of this equipment by [redacted] bears the highest security classification, [redacted] has prescribed a number of unusual security precautions in the installation, operation and maintenance of this voice cryptographic equipment. In order to insure adequate maintenance, Electronics Maintenance Technician John A. Hawn, Jr., who is assigned to [redacted] attended a special six weeks' training school in order to become thoroughly familiar with the highly complicated servicing of the KY-1.

Attached hereto is a set of instructions for the information of Mr. Holloman regarding the features and operation of the special KY-1 telephone instrument and system as prescribed by [redacted]

RECOMMENDATION:

REC- 54

66-17381-2135

Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : DIRECTOR, FBI (66-17381)

DATE: 7/23/58

FROM : SAC, WFO (66-2233)

SUBJECT: DEFENSE PLANS - EMERGENCY EVACUATION

ReBulet 7/14/58 which enclosed to this office four attachments, each consisting of three maps showing locations of, and routes to the major government relocation sites, all maps classified "~~Top Secret~~."

As the Bureau is aware, WFO has specific and continuing responsibility in the matter of the possible relocation, on short notice, of the Director, Associate Director TOLSON and the Attorney General. The enclosures to reBulet will be turned over to the four WFO Agents specifically responsible in this connection. These Agents are fully aware of the necessity for special handling and maintenance of these documents because of their high security classification.

A copy of the WFO Defense Plans Manual is in the possession of each WFO supervisor, and in order to adequately equip each such manual, this office feels it is necessary and desirable that a set of the relocation site maps enclosed with reBulet be included in each copy.

It is possible that the services of WFO surveillance units on the street might be needed on a moment's notice to relocate top government officials in addition to those named above, or to perform other unforeseen duties where the maps of relocation sites would be needed. With a copy of these maps in each copy of the WFO Defense Plans Manual, any WFO supervisor will be in a position to issue instructions in these situations. Also, these copies of the maps will provide an additional safeguard in regard to the proposed action in relocating the Director, Mr. TOLSON and the Attorney General.

Each copy of the WFO Defense Plans Manual is securely maintained in WFO, out of deference to the sensitive data which it contains.

On 8-8 and 11-58 we received from the Department copies of Departmental and Office of Defense and Civilian Mobilization (ODCM) correspondence re the captioned matter.

Referral/Consult

Departmental letter to ODCM 8-4-58 furnished answers re personnel, communications and functions and concurred in the need for continuous activation of relocation sites, stating that the Department preferred to operate a stand-by staff at since the Department's present site is not readily adaptable to permanent peacetime occupancy. Department was in favor of hardening ODCM sites and Department's facilities in Washington.

Mr. Yeagley's memorandum to the Attorney General dated 8-7-58 reported results of 8-6-58 ODCM meeting re captioned matter. During the meeting, Mr. Hoegh, ODCM, requested each affected agency to submit the name of a "policy level" man capable of carrying out emergency functions to be relocated.

Commenting on the meeting for the benefit of the indicated in 8-4-58 letter. Mr. Yeagley suggested that ODCM

Concerning the Department's liaison representatives to [] the names of Mr. Simms and Mr. Stephenson, Office of Legal

According to information emanating [redacted]

[redacted]

It would appear that under emergency conditions (such as wartime), a power source for [redacted] machine could be more readily available. [redacted] obviously require [redacted] probably of a relatively large output capacity. It would appear that a [redacted] machine might be powered, perhaps with the addition of a more sophisticated [redacted] system, to an ordinary [redacted] readily available in any service station. Such [redacted] can be easily powered by any ordinary home-type electric generating plant or by a small gasoline engine.

SUGGESTION #1: For the information of the Bureau and its possible future use, particularly in connection with relocation plans.

SUGGESTION #2: That the Bureau may desire to transmit this data to the Department of Defense or Air Force for their information inasmuch as such a device would be:

- (1) Important to air defense in the calculations of anti-aircraft weapons.
- (2) Important to offense in the calculation of guided missiles.
- (3) Important to logistics and supply.
- (4) Important to defense and wartime industries.

STREAMLINING OF COMMUNICATIONS PROCEDURES

Reference memorandum from Mr. Roach to Mr. Belmont captioned "Buplans - Operation Alert 1958, July 15-18, 1958, (Recommendations)," dated October 8, 1958.

Reference memo pointed out that streamlining of communications procedures is considered as handled with the exception of some minor changes in message logging procedures.

Our logging procedures had been patterned after but were more simplified than those recommended by the Interagency Communications System (ICS). They were designed to produce quickly the statistical information required by the Domestic Intelligence Division and for post-exercise communications reports on ICS traffic required by the ICS.

We can cut our message logging by 50%, eliminate any duplication of logging, and still produce the necessary information for the Domestic Intelligence Division and for the ICS and retain sufficient records to prevent loss or delays in processing messages. Unless advised to the contrary, the streamlining of the message logging procedures will be effected during the next communications operation at the relocation site.

This completes the streamlining of our communications procedures at the relocation site and will enable us to do without the services, during a test exercise, of 4 employees, 2 clerks from the Cryptanalysis Translation Section of the Laboratory and 2 Clerk-typists borrowed from the Records Branch.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this memorandum be forwarded to the Domestic Intelligence Division for appropriate action.
